

The Lodge at Woodloch Announces New Labyrinth Workshops

Award-winning destination spa adds to the natural beauty surrounding the property with a Lotus Labyrinth

For Immediate Release: Hawley, PA, August 12, 2015- With the addition of a new custom designed Lotus Labyrinth this spring, fitness and wellness expert Cindy Wasilewski has gathered her team to develop a series of new workshops to highlight the property's newest amenity. The new Labyrinth will offer new programming and a serene location for meditation and relaxation hugged by the arms of the forest. Uniquely designed by Katja Marquart, Associate Dean & Head of Interior Architecture at the University of Wisconsin, the Labyrinth features a lotus flower at the entrance and exit of the Labyrinth, 9 circuits and a surface area of over 1,589 square feet. The Lodge sourced the perfect craftsman, Mark Bell of Rock Solid Landscaping, to carefully lay each stone. The full team also sourced the Veriditas Organization, the authority on educating and training about Labyrinths throughout the world to certify them on Labyrinth Facilitation.

What is a Labyrinth? According to Veriditas: "The labyrinth is a walking meditation, a path of prayer and an archetypal blueprint where psyche meets Spirit. It has only one path that leads from the outer edge in a circuitous way to the center. There are no tricks to it and no dead ends. Unlike a maze where you lose your way, the labyrinth is a spiritual tool that can help you find your way."
